Karen A. Orzech for Justice of the Peace

Lance Collister, Treasurer

P.O. Box 73, Frenchtown, MT 59834-0073

Re-Elect Judge Karen Orzech
On June 8 and November 2!

Karen A. Orzech has Vision, Dedication & Professionalism...

The Justice of the Peace has a unique opportunity to serve the people of Missoula County. People come into Justice Court as victims, as defendants, as criminals, and as neighbors. An innovative and capable Justice of the Peace honors their rights, treats them with respect, and strives to help people change their lives, improve their safety, and solve disputes. A dedicated Justice of the Peace selflessly serves the people of Missoula County, takes the time to evaluate each case with objective impartiality, and makes a difference in building the community. This is Karen Orzech's vision.

Karen makes that vision a reality by understanding and responding to community needs. People come into Justice Court with a problem that is unique. As Justice of the Peace, Karen takes the time to evaluate each person's situation and apply the most effective solution available within the law. There is no place for "cookie cutter justice" in the diverse lives and situations she encounters through the thousands of cases she handles every year. Each case receives the individual consideration warranted by the specific facts involved. She demands this same degree of diligence, thoroughness, compliance with the law, and respect for our individual rights, from all participants in the Justice system.

She continues to establish new tools to hold people accountable and to more effectively and economically operate the court. Her record shows she is truly fair, unbiased and independent.

Isn't this the type of justice you want and expect for yourself, your family and your community?

...plus the Judicial Experience, Caring and Proven Ability to best serve the people of Missoula County...

A Justice of the Peace rules on criminal and civil matters every day.. Karen has the "get things done" attitude, broad range of practical experience, and people skills, to successfully handle the demanding and challenging opportunities she faces every day. She has a refreshing, thoughtful and common-sense approach to dealing with people, and a proven ability to resolve challenging problems involving people from all walks of life.

Karen learned responsibility and hard work early on her family's farm. She earned a PhD in microbiology, worked in agricultural research and successfully managed a large staff and budget in the private sector. After serving as a visiting professor at The University of Montana, she became Crime Victim Advocate for the City and County of Missoula. She was elected Missoula County Justice of the Peace in 1998. Voters confirmed their confidence and satisfaction with the job she has been doing, by voting nearly 3 to 1 to re-elect her in 2002. And she has not stopped her hard work and commitment to improving the justice court system and the way it impacts our community.

Over the last eight years, she has repeatedly demonstrated her dedication to the community - both through her conscientious service as an independent and unbiased Justice of the Peace, and her active involvement in local civic groups. Karen is trained to be analytical and to resolve problems objectively, based on the facts. Her fair and well-reasoned decisions are based on the law, and she has brought a new sense of professionalism and common sense to Justice Court.

Her capability, thoroughness, and selflessness have earned her the respect not only of her peers and visitors to the Court, but also of Montana organizations. She is the Montana Magistrates Association Training Judge for western Montana. She was honored to be appointed to the State Supreme Court's Commission on Technology, and the Commission on Ethics. She has developed close working relationships with local and state professionals to develop new, more effective sentencing options based on restorative justice for use here in the county.

Isn't this the kind of dedicated, proven professional you want and deserve to shape the future of your Justice Court?

...and will continue to work toward a Responsive Court based on Accountability, Respect and Justice with Insight.

Again in 2010, you choose how your Justice Court is run. Vote for a court that respects its citizens and their rights, is fair and independent, and is dedicated to the community.

Re-Elect Judge Karen A. Orzech!
